Reynders, McVeigh Capital Management Brings Core Equity Fund (ESGEX) to Market

(Boston, MA) April 10, 2019 – Reynders, McVeigh Capital Management, an investment management firm with an Environment, Social, Governance (ESG) integrated approach to equity selection, announced the launch of the Reynders, McVeigh Core Equity Fund.

The actively-managed Fund, available via the Fidelity platform, seeks capital preservation and long-term capital growth through the same investment disciplines as the Reynders, McVeigh Core Equity strategy.

The Reynders, McVeigh Core Equity Fund is a global fund that will seek to invest in developed markets. The high conviction strategy and integration of ESG factor analysis contributes to potential low portfolio turnover, which in turn may limit tax liabilities and transaction costs for investors.

“We built Reynders, McVeigh around the idea that every investor deserves a thoughtful approach that fits with his or her long-term goals,” said Chat Reynders, CEO and Chairman of Reynders, McVeigh. “The Fund is an ideal strategy for us to help a broader swath of investors benefit from that philosophy.”

Since its founding, Reynders, McVeigh has utilized ESG inputs as a part of its holistic research process. The firm’s integrated approach upholds the highest fiduciary standard and uncovers liabilities and performance factors that its managers believe lead to better operating performance in portfolio companies.

“We do not believe that negative screening alone is an effective way to design a portfolio,” said Patrick McVeigh, President and Chief Investment Officer at Reynders, McVeigh. “Rather, we believe that directing capital toward exemplary companies and innovative, growing business sectors leads to long-term investment success.”
